THE BRICK KILN IS NEARLY READY

MR. LEW OGAN BUILDING THE EXPERIMENTAL BRICK KILN AND DOING THE WORK HIMSELF. AN OPERATIVE MASON

The brick kiln Mr. Lew Ogan is building for experimental work in Mr. Carruther's barn on Irving avenue is rapidly nearing completion and Mr. Ogan is anticipating starting a slow fire Saturday to dry the mortar preliminary to burning brick. The kiln is about six feet square and will be eight or nine feet high. It will be braced with heavy iron plates about six inches from the corners and on all four sides. The bolts are rods of iron which are embedded in the brick work with a nut and thread on each end.

There is considerable ingenuity displayed in the construction of this small kiln in arranging for the steady heat which must be maintained in burning bricks. It is designed with the idea of having the smoke go from the fire round the kiln (on top) in the form of the letter S as by so doing the bricks will receive a uniform heat on all surfaces.

CIRCUIT COURT RECORD YESTERDAY

SIX CASES PRESENTED AND ORDERS MADE—ONE JURY CASE AND ITS VERDICT—THREE DIVORCE PLEAS.

His Honor, Judge McBride, of the circuit court, yesterday took judicial cognizance of six cases set for the day, and made the following orders therein, to-wit:

In the matter of Ed. Anderson vs. D. Cummings et. al.; default was entered and judgment taken as against D. Cummings; and the attached property ordered sold. Later in the day, upon motion of Attorney Howard Brownell, who appeared for Mr. Cummings, these orders were vacated entirely, on the ground that Defendant Cummings still had a day more in which to answer.

In the matter of Jennie L. Irving vs. Owen J. Irving, for divorce; decree was granted as prayed for.

In the case of the State of Oregon vs. Robert Wilberg, an order was made and entered directing C. E. Runyon, court stenographer, to make a transcript of the testimony.

In the case of Isaac Bergman vs. B. S. Worsley, civil, action for money; on trial before a jury, a verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $50.80. The court thereupon discharged all the jurors for the term, saving those dwelling within the City of Astoria.

In the matter of the proceedings for divorce instituted by Mrs. Anna M. Gates against Ire E. Gates, hospital steward at Fort Stevens, the court heard the testimony of the principals and at once granted the decree of divorce; reserving his decision as to the matters of the maintenance charge in behalf of the plaintiff and the custody of her boy baby, until he could inquire further into conditions surrounding the case. This is a case that has aroused no little interest with those who have come in touch with the details; an interest that has unqualified centered in the unhappy wife.

Court adjourned until 9 a. m. today.

Crop conditions are unusually promising, the wheels of trade are moving, and prosperity is returning in all parts of the country. There is nothing in the general situation upon which the Democrats can hope to predicate a successful campaign.
